New Paradigm

Fidelity:

A vintage advertisement with distorted and blurry details.

The text on the image is difficult to read.

The fidelity is 2/10 - certainly Al-generated.

Alignment:

The two street signs in the image are not at a crossing, and the image is a wide shot of the intersection rather than a close-up.

I would rate their alignment as 3/5 - a few minor discrepancies.

Aesthetics:

The image has colorful typography and the vintage-style design, but it also has Al characteristics, such as the distorted and blurry details.

I would rate this image as a 4/10.
